Cloud information:

1. Clouds are the white and or gray fluffy things we see when the sky isn't clear. There are many different types and sizes of clouds. Clouds float in the sky.
2. Clouds are actually made of little droplets of water / water vapor in the sky. The droplets of water are so small that the cloud is able to float.
3. Clouds can block the sun which makes the weather cooler, when clouds get too heavy with water droplets, rain or snow can happen.

Additional information:

Clouds are white because they are reflected by the sun. When clouds get thicker and heavier, they become gray because not as much of the sun can get through.
