

Families Poem

In families so dear, filled with love and cheer,
Parents and kids, together, always near.
Moms and dads, like heroes so true,
They guide and help, taking care of you.
Sisters and brothers, friends in the fun,
Playing and laughing, under the same sun.
Grandmas and grandpas, with stories so grand,
Sharing their love, hand in hand.
Through giggles and games, and stories so sweet,
Families are special, a joyful treat.
In storms or sunny weather, we stick together,
Families are strong, now and forever.
So let's shout "Hooray!" for the love we share,
Families are awesome, everywhere!
