

A friend says they won't talk to you unless you stop being friends with somebody else.

