

Name: _____

Accountability

To be accountable means to be responsible for your actions and your decisions. Look at the example and then for each of the situations below, describe 'accountable' actions that should be taken:

You lost a book that you borrowed from a friend.

Accountable Action: Let your friend know you lost the book, apologize to your friend and let your friend know how badly you feel. Tell your friend you will replace the book or provide your friend with the money and ask if this is acceptable to her/him.

① You are working on a group project for school. Each member of the group has committed to their part to be completed for the next day. You didn't complete your part and it is due today.

Accountable Action: _____

② You demonstrated some inappropriate behaviors at a friend's birthday party. _____

Accountable Action: _____

③ You accidentally stepped on a class mate's pen and it broke:

Accountable Action: _____

