

Name: _____

Imitation Sentences

Learn to use the semicolon by imitating the sentence. Look at the semicolon use in the sentence and write a sentence that is similar and that requires the same use of the semicolon.

For Example— The weather forecaster was right; it rained all day.

Imitation Sentence: I like fishing; I always catch something.

This semicolon is used in a list when the list items already contain commas.

Imitate the following sentence twice:

The team player I know are: John, the goalie, Jim, the defenseman, and Tom, the forward.

1 _____

2 _____

Imitate the following sentence twice:

There are 2 ways to cook: with a barbeque, which is only outdoors; or by stove, which is indoors.

1 _____

2 _____

Imitate the following sentence once: (Join two clauses using transitional words)

I like spinach; but, I only like it raw.

1 _____