

Spring is in the Air

Springtime is here, it's so exciting

The days are getting longer and the sun is shining bright

The birds are singing and the flowers blooming

It's the season of joy and hope for the future

The sweet smell of flowers fills the air

The days are getting warmer and the grass is turning green

The trees are budding and the world is alive

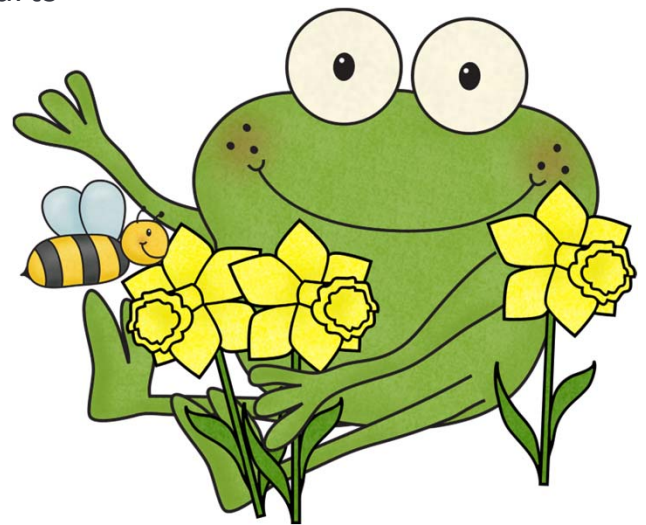

It's the season of new beginnings and fresh starts

The days are filled with laughter and fun

The sun is shining and the sky is blue

The birds are chirping and the bees buzzing

It's the season of renewal and life awakening

Springtime is here, it's so wonderful

A time of joy, a time of beauty

A time of growth, a time of life

A time of happiness, a time of rebirth.

1. Read the passage and underline any word or sentence you struggled with.
2. Answer the questions on the following page.

Spring is in the Air

Answer according to the reading passage:

1. What happens to the days in spring?

- a. they get shorter
- b. they get longer
- c. they get brighter

2. It's the season for:

- a. being excited
- b. all things new
- c. joy and hope

3. The smell of _____ fill the air?

- a. flowers
- b. dewdrops
- c. rain

4. The birds are _____ the bees are _____

- a. singing and stinging
- b. chirping and buzzing
- c. singing and flying

5. It's a time of happiness and a time of _____

- a. rebirth
- b. new beginnings
- c. growth

Spring is in the Air

Open Response Questions

Open Response Questions for Thinking Skills:

1. Inferring
2. Making Connections
3. Summarizing
4. Visualizing

1. How does spring described in the poem compare with your spring?
2. What does this poem remind you of?
3. In 2-3 sentences, summarize what this passage is about.
4. What images go through your mind as read Spring is in the Air?
 - What is your favorite season and why?
 - What does the author mean by the term 'a time of rebirth'.
 - What do you think the author means by the terms 'a time of growth and a time of life'.
 - Write your own poem about spring.