

Verbs

A Word That Shows Action,
Something Done or State of Being

Verbs Samples of state of being verbs are: John is the tallest student. It was a joke.

Verbs are also words like am, is or are. They are referred to as the 'to be' verbs.

Verbs we use everyday are: have, had, go, went, gone, make, made, come, came, get, got, say, tell, take, took, taken.

Verbs have tenses and it is important to have the verb agree with the subject. Examples are: dance, danced, dancing, cry, cried, crying.

Verbs that refer to a state of being are also referred to as linking verbs. Samples of these are:

She feels sad. She is the teacher. Candy tastes sweet.